PrepBox Design Document

Project Description

"PrepBox" is a web application designed to help students and job seekers prepare for job interviews. The application allows users to browse common interview questions along with sample answers. In addition, users can also share experiences from their recent interviews or job search journeys. These experiences may include challenges faced, useful advice, or valuable insights that can help others better prepare for interviews.

The goal is to create a community-driven space where people can support each other's growth by sharing questions, answers, and real experiences. By combining shared knowledge and real interview stories, PrepBox helps users to better understand interview expectations and improve their preparation.
